

There is no better way to learn about history than to visit the places where it's made.

Meet
Jonathan
Black

Over 350
Tours Given

Jonathan Black
Senior Director for Chemical
Safety and Plastic Pollution
Prevention at the White House
Council on Environmental Quality

Tours attract the second highest number of visitors to the White House, after general visits.

FOR MORE INFORMATION OR TO SCHEDULE A TOUR:

- Visit www.whitehouse.gov/visit
- Contact your Member of Congress

WHITE HOUSE TOURS FOR SCHOOLS

SHARING THE NATION'S HISTORY WITH THE NEXT GENERATION

Tour attendance typically peaks in October and April, while November typically sees lower numbers of tours by comparison.

While the majority of White House tours take place during the weekend, it is important to note that weekday tours happen after traditional school hours, usually between 5-10 pm.

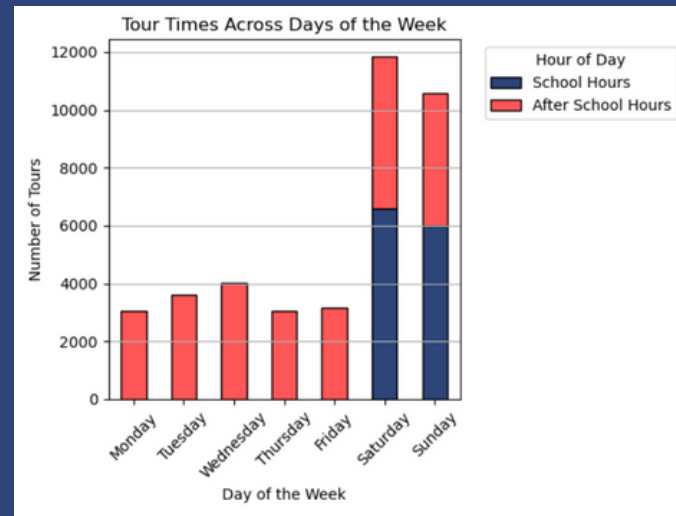

MEET OUR STAFF

Our staff love to lead tours and some of our most experienced tour volunteers come from a wide variety of educational and governmental backgrounds.

Your students will have the opportunity to learn directly from the staff of our nation's capitol. They will see the history of our country in the making.

Together, our staff provided over 39,000 tours in the 22/23 school year.

- | | |
|-----------------------|------------------------------------------------------------|
| Jonathan Black | Council on Environmental Quality |
| Daniela McCool | The Executive Office of the President |
| William Slack | US Digital Service |
| Lisa Carr | Office of Faith-Based and Neighborhood Partnerships |
| Brian Scott | Office of the National Cyber Director |
| Vinay Reddy | Speechwriting |
| Elizabeth Hart | Social Secretary |
| Dylan Presman | Budget and Assessment |

Please keep this in mind when considering tour times that work best for your class.